

Dr. Bogalech Gebre ACLP Fellowship: Empowering Future Leaders in Human Rights

Program Overview:

In partnership with the Ethiopian Human Rights Commission (EHRC) and Civil Society Resource Center, the African Civil Leadership Program (ACLP) proudly presents a dedicated initiative aimed at enhancing human rights investigation and monitoring efforts in Ethiopia. ACLP targets young professionals and recent graduates, aiming to inspire the next generation of civic-minded lawyers. The program offers Master's-level students hands-on experience within EHRC. This initiative strategically builds EHRC's human resources while providing invaluable experience for emerging human rights professionals.

Targeted technical and practical support:

Fellows will receive a targeted technical and practical support. Seasoned experts will be enlisted to provide this hands-on support. Through continued support from the ACLP/CSRC team and with the assistance of experts as needed, the selected fellows will receive comprehensive guidance and assistance in their work. This ensures that they are equipped with the knowledge and skills needed to contribute effectively.

Fellow Contributions:

Our fellows play a crucial role in supporting EHRC's efforts. They engage in investigations, monitor human rights violations, and implement measures to protect and promote human rights in Ethiopia. Their dedication and skills make a lasting impact.
